message from the President of the Board

The Lighthouse of Broward is having a great 2006! We have had many successful events. I hope you have had a chance to attend at least one of them. Our first Art Auction was fantastic and raised over $14,000. The Easter Egg-Stravaganza for our littlest clients was covered by all the local television and newspapers and even National Geographic Kids Magazine. The Sensory Garden was honored by the Broward County Commission. Our Volunteer and Alumni Luncheons were well attended and a lot of fun. All this, and the professional staff still found the time to educate the visually impaired in our community. How wonderful!

Many of you may have heard that the Lighthouse for the Blind of the Palm Beaches recently closed. To eliminate any confusion, we want everyone to know that the Lighthouse of Broward County (LHOB) remains strong and is moving forward to meet the needs of people who are blind or visually impaired in Broward County. The Lighthouse of Broward is a separate 501 (c) 3 agency from the Palm Beach Lighthouse. We share a similar mission to serve people who are blind or visually impaired, but we are an independent organization. Be assured we are doing what we can to reach out to our neighbors in Palm Beach and assist their clients.

The Lighthouse of Broward continues to expand to meet the growing needs of people with visual impairments throughout our county. These recent developments in Palm Beach demonstrate the challenges of running a non-profit agency that relies on the donations from individuals to fund the important work we do everyday. On behalf of the Board of Directors, I am pleased to report a strong balance sheet.

magical moments through their eyes

First Annual Egg-Stravaganza "Beeping Egg" Hunt

Kids and their families enjoyed a very special children's Easter Egg Hunt with beeping eggs designed especially for blind and visually impaired children. With the help of many Lighthouse volunteers, the children received special easter baskets, had their faces painted, enjoyed the petting zoo and enjoyed pizza for lunch. Even the Easter Bunny dropped by to see the kids.

Special thanks to our Golden Egg Sponsor Josephine S. Leiser Foundation and to our "Good Egg" Beeping Egg Sponsors.

Many thanks to Volunteer Broward volunteers for helping with our Egg-Stravaganza. You were wonderful!

Center for Emerging Art 2005 Artist Residency "Access to Light through Art" at Lighthouse of Broward

The Center for Emerging Art's Education Outreach Program, funded by the State of Florida, Division of Cultural Affairs, initiated a pilot program which provided a much needed service and opportunities for children at the Lighthouse of Broward. All of the children are blind or visually impaired.

The Artist-in-Residency with Center for Emerging Art's "Preserving the Legacy: Access to Light through Art" worked with the participating blind and visually impaired children to create their art work in clay, wood, stencil, and cut outs by using creative tools to put together a three dimensional aquarium collage.

Thank You to Resident Artists Ava L. Rado and Andrea Dougherty for this picture.

Juli Manchester

By ELLEN CRANE SCHULMAN

Juli Manchester is taking time from her busy schedule as a yoga instructor and Pampered Chef kitchen consultant to help her sister paint the walls of a warehouse office. She takes her time, carefully guiding the roller up and down the expansive wall. She spends a little extra time working to keep her roller straight because Manchester is blind.

She has retinitis pigmentosa, an inherited disease that affects the retina and causes a gradual loss of vision. Her limited vision is like looking through binoculars. As one of her doctors explained to her, her eyes are like a $10,000 camera with bad film.

Six years ago, she could see well enough to attend school and work in a full time corporate job. Manchester, now 38, only learned about her disease when she was in her mid-20s.

A young woman with a determined spirit, Manchester graduated from high school and entered Boston University to study business administration. She then moved to Fort Lauderdale to be near her mother and started working for a temporary staffing firm, coordinating all of the employees assigned to Blockbuster Inc. She worked her way up and spent seven years working for various Huizenga companies.

As her vision began to worsen, she was told by a doctor that she needed to change her occupation. He was concerned she would be unable to keep up with the computer and paper work.

Then one Saturday, at age 32, Manchester woke up from a nap to a changed life. "I woke up and looked toward my closet, but all I saw was black and flecks of dust," she said. "I tried to lie back down and close my eyes again, thinking I was still tired, but nothing changed."

She was taken to Bascom Palmer Eye Institute for tests but had to begin facing her new reality. After being forced to give up a career she loved, Manchester realized she had to get on with her life and decided to go back to work. She contacted the Division of Blind Services and began rehabilitation training with the Lighthouse of Broward. She learned cane skills, how to use special magnification and speech-output computer software, and how to make changes in her kitchen to assure safe cooking. She also received orientation training that prepared her to get a guide dog.

Shortly thereafter, Manchester received her guide dog, Kenworth, from Guide Dogs for the Blind, and began her new independent life. She became a yoga student and eventually an instructor.

Despite this new career path, she wanted more and began focusing on her life-long passion for cooking. This desire led to Manchester becoming a representative for The Pampered Chef. As she pursues her cooking and yoga endeavors, Manchester looks forward to the day when more people understand and respect individuals with visual impairments.

A participant in sensitivity training for Broward County's public transportation workers, Manchester speaks openly about her personal experiences in hopes of helping others. Her desire is to break down the stereotypes about the blind in an effort to inspire individuals facing visual challenges and spread a positive awareness to everyone.

Lighthouse becomes Spa for the Day for Dog Guides

By DOLORES HANLEY-MCDIARMID, COMS
Certified Orientation & Mobility Specialist

Stress... It's a part of life, even for the dedicated and hard working dog guides who enable individuals who are blind and visually impaired to navigate more safely and independently in the community. In an effort to provide stress management for local dog guides, the Lighthouse of Broward planned a hands-on workshop to show dog guide users how to massage their faithful guide and companion and explain the benefits of a daily massage.

On Saturday January 21, 2006 Cyndi Harkins, who has a degree in Canine Rehabilitation and Massage Therapy for animals spent the morning with eight blind and visually impaired people and their dog guides, explaining and demonstrating the proper way to massage a dog. Ms.

Harkins explained that regular massages for older dogs helps with arthritic pain and also helps keep younger dogs in better shape. Setting time aside to give one's dog a massage also provides an opportunity to strengthen the bond between the person and their dog guide.

Ms. Harkins enjoyed her first experience working with individuals who are blind and visually impaired. "It was educational for me, as well. I rarely encounter a person who is sight impaired. What wonderful people, true animal owners that can really appreciate all that their dog does for them."

If anyone is interested in participating in a future hands-on seminar on how to massage their dog guide, please contact Dolores Hanley-McDiarmid at (954) 463-4217, ext 13.

LHOBT Volunteer of the Year

In 2003 Virginia Molnar came to the Lighthouse of Broward with macular degeneration. After completing classes that gave her the skills to work with her visual impairment, she began to volunteer at the Lighthouse. Three years later she volunteers in almost every department. On Fridays, Virginia is an explorer buddy giving tours of the Lighthouse to potential clients. Other days she helps in the kitchen and in the Development Department getting mailings out.

Virginia is an inspiration to the staff, clients and other volunteers at the Lighthouse. She truly deserves the honor of "Volunteer of the Year."

LHOBT explorer buddies

If you know someone who is blind or visually impaired, tell them about the LHOBT Explorer Buddies Program. Explorer Buddies are Lighthouse graduates who volunteer to give a personal tour of the Lighthouse and explain programs to individuals who need the services of the Lighthouse. Call to schedule an appointment. You'll be glad you did.

Our hearts and thanks to all of our wonderful volunteers. We couldn't do what we do without you!!!

Volunteer in Visual Assistance Program

Our Volunteer in Visual Assistance Program is definitely kicking into high gear this year. Very exciting programs run by the volunteers include a monthly Book Club, Arts & Crafts, and a Trivia Group.

Let's not forget the great volunteers who assist in our classrooms on a daily basis, as well as around the building every day helping the staff at the Lighthouse. We have been fortunate to partner with volunteer Broward who has been setting up some of our local middle schools and high schools to spend a day here at the Lighthouse volunteering to do all sorts of jobs around the building. While they are doing this, they are getting a great "head start" on the meaning of "giving back to your community."

If you are interested in joining our TEAM, please call the Lighthouse and ask for Barbara Krantz at (954) 463-4217, ext 41.
